It then introduces physics topics in a logical sequence, starting with classical mechanics and moving on to topics such as work and energy, electricity, magnetism, and light and optics before transitioning to chemistry topics such as the atomic model, elements and compounds, chemical reactions, solutions, acids, bases, and salts. Every chapter shows by example how science is relevant to a Christian worldview of science (BJU Press). Students taking this course will be required to work independently off-campus during the week as directed by the instructor. The majority of grading will be done on campus by the campus instructor. Parents must purchase the course materials listed on the curriculum list.
